UNIQUE MAYAN TEMAZCAL EXPERIENCE AT THE EXPLOREAN COZUMEL

One of the best ways travelers to Mexico can experience Mayan culture is to stay at The Explorean Cozumel. The luxurious resort allows travelers to get in touch with nature and connect with ancient cultures by exploring the amazing nearby Mayan ruins. Now that opportunity is even better, with guests able to partake in the unique Temazcal experience, an ancient form of a Mayan-style vapor bath inside a domed structure set within a jungle environment and complemented with natural herbs. The 60-minute Mayan steam-house ritual ends with a refreshing swim in a nearby cenote, or sinkhole, an important geographic feature of the Yucatan Peninsula. The ritual has been used by various indigenous cultures of Central America and North America as a medicinal detoxification of intense sweating and the addition of herbal infusions. Temperatures inside the structure during treatment will rise to 140 degrees Fahrenheit. This purification ritual is based on the belief that as the body cleans and detoxes through sweating, the mind itself also becomes purer in thought, a form of meditation within the treatment. At the end of the ceremony, guests will have the opportunity to jump into a cenote which will help cool the body down and close their pores.
